Antioch News' 1st Edition From New Cox-o-Type is Run

Pit and Press Weight Listed Over 30 Tons

The Antioch News has just recently finished installing its new Cox-o-Type Press for the present issue to be printed. The Cox-o-Type press, a large flat bed, web fed press will allow printing and folding complete sections of up to 8 pages. The press will also permit two additional columns and extra length over the old format.

Taking almost two weeks to install, the press required a solid cement pit of 27 tons. The press itself weighs twelve tons. Installation of the press undoubtedly marks the most progressive advance made by The Antioch News in the last seventy or so years.

Needless to say, the staff and personnel of this newspaper are quite elated over the installation of the new press.

We quote some of their comments: Howard Shepard, Business Manager, stated that the new press "opens the way for increased coverage of the news and placement of advertising—putting us in a more flexible position in printing a wider variety of page combinations. We can now print tabloid or regular newspaper size."

Jay Nash, Editor of the News said that by installing the new press, along with a brand new type makeup, "the benefit is definitely slanted toward the reader, providing him with more subject matter to read."

Jean Homan, Secretary and Society Editor, stated that "I think the installation of the new press is very exciting. To the layman who has never seen a press of this sort operated it is almost unbelievable."

Press Foreman, Harold Gaston, was quoted as saying, "Our greatly increased circulation has made this action towards automation a necessity."

Part Owner and Pressman, Robert Gaston stated: "The press is six times faster than the equipment being replaced. It will save us numerous man hours of unnecessary labor."

The News, which for the past two weeks has been printed out of town, had been considerably widened. In regards to this form Robert Gaston said, "Because of many requests for a smaller size paper than we've been recently publishing, we shall reduce the present size of the newspaper by three inches shortly. Mechanical problems prevent us from making the paper any smaller than this eventual reduction."

Long-time linotypist, Miss Mabel Sayles said that as far as the press's installation was concerned she "considered it quite a big undertaking and the most progressive step ever taken by the News."

Pressman Donald Gaston reflected by saying that the press was representative of "looking toward the future. It's a step in the right direction for a larger operation for the Antioch News."

Printer's apprentice, Mike Brooks was entirely elated over the new press. "Since I am planning to major in printing management in college," Brooks said, "the installation of the new press has been a worthwhile experience."

Goss Erector, Al Cunningham, who directed the press' installation stated that, "Innumerable years of service from this press could be expected." Cunningham has installed 72 presses of this sort.

ATH to Hold Science Fair

On Saturday, March 31, the Science Club at A.T.H.S. will present its third annual science fair. According to the science club's sponsor, William Seemann, this fair will be the biggest success of all.

A few of the rules set up, both by the ATHS science club and the Junior Academy of Science are noted here for those wishing to participate. No project can be larger than two feet by four and one-half feet; the exhibitor must be present when his project is judged, and each project must be accompanied by a paper with a maximum of 1500 words.

To enter, a student must fill out an entry blank which can be obtained from Mr. Seemann at the high school and turn it in no later than March 15. The student must be at least in seventh grade; there are no other requirements.

A few changes have been made since last year's fair. First, only ten projects from this fair will go to the district. This makes the competition more keen. Second, the science club will sell refreshments this year. In previous years the F.N.A. handled this job.

Lions Club & American Legion Sponsor 4th of July Carnival

The board of directors of the Antioch Lions Club recently decided to proceed with a joint carnival along with the American Legion Post in the village this summer.

John L. Horan, Legion chairman, and Bill Seemann, chairman for the Lions Club will confer on the arrangement of the carnival which will be held July 4 through 8.

President of the Lions Club, Dr. Albert Bucar, reported that the Junior Chamber of Commerce will run a beauty contest concurrently with the carnival. Commemorating the last day of the carnival, the Lions Club will sponsor a barbecue.

The gala event is picking up support from many civic organizations in the village. President Bucar feels that this affair would be an excellent opportunity for all organizations to lend their aid, influence and spirit to the all-important Independence Day week.

The Lions Club hopes that the Village Fathers will lead off the event by staging a 4th of July Parade.

Contracts have already been signed with the A-1 Amusement carnival to come to Antioch for that week.

Along with their efforts to re-establish a constructive and solid Chamber of Commerce in Antioch, the Lions hope to interest the merchants comprising the organization to display their wares in a Home Show Exhibit at that time.

Car Slides Into Ditch

A one-car accident involving two persons took place on Rte. 59 south of Rt. 173 last Sunday, March 11, at 2 a.m.

Frank Plotzke, 24, of Chicago was driving Sharon Berg's car at the time. Miss Berg, 19, a resident of Lake Villa, was with Plotzke at the time.

Plotzke, who was proceeding south on Rt. 59, lost control of the car and skidded into the nearby ditch. The automobile tore down 15 feet of fence and knocked down 2 nearby posts.

After the accident, Plotzke told Miss Berg that he would help remove the car from the ditch later and left. He did not return for two hours and the sheriff's office was notified. Plotzke has yet to be reached. The car had to be towed away but no injuries were sustained by either party.

Lake Villa Board Gives Liquor Permit Promise

Mrs. Beth Schofield, who was bogged down with the financial weight of her apartment hotel project located on Rte. 21 and Grand Avenue, was recently assured by the Lake Villa Village Board that she would be issued a liquor license if the present unfinished building is completed by the new owner.

The Village Attorney, Bernard Juron, was instructed to prepare an amended ordinance to permit the issuance of the license by Mayor Walter Schneider.

Even though creditors have recently taken over the building, Mrs. Schofield is negotiating the sale.

Member Resigned

No successor has yet been designated to fill the president of the Zoning Board position left vacant by the resignation of William Thompson. Thompson's resignation came as a result of his moving from the village.

Sewer and Water

A representative of DeJong Associates of Rockford inspected sewer and water systems in Lake Villa last Friday in order to ascertain whether the present facilities can accommodate the new resort motel of John Valanis. The new motel is located at the east edge of the village. The company is expected to give estimates on the costs involved, if any, in improvements.

Sand to be provided for the Lake Villa beach will be needed soon and the aid of the Lake Villa Fire Department will be requested to complete the task.

The village's police department will purchase a Plymouth squad car from Hucker's Auto Sales.

Use of the village hall was granted the Lake Villa Woman's Club for a card party to be held on April 24.

June 8 will mark a special tag day for the Salvation Army. Authorization for the event came from the board.

Salem Holds Science Fair

Plans are well underway for the annual Science Fair at Salem Central High.

This fair will be held on Thursday, March 15, from 1 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., with judging on Wednesday evening. All students of the 7th and 8th grades from the surrounding areas have been invited to view the exhibits in the afternoon with their respective teachers. Medals are awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places. The winners of this exhibit will take their projects to Kenosha for the fair there on March 18. Salem Central has drawn large crowds, at least 1000 viewing it last year. This year the exhibits are particularly interesting. One of the most interesting will be a cross-section of a fall-out shelter.

Judges for this fair are Ralph Lehman of Union Grove, Robert Van Liere of the Kenosha County School Committee and Dr. S. W. Waldo, DVM of Bristol, plus Robert J. Holm of Antioch, a chemist for a Waukegan firm.

Remember the date: Thursday, March 15, from 1 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Central High School.

Charles Larson Speaks Before Region Jaycees

Car is Hit From Rear

Frank J. Nauseda, 17, of Antioch was involved in an accident with Frances G. Smith, 38, also of Antioch on Rt. 173 last Sunday morning at 12:40 a.m.

Smith states that she was proceeding west on 173 when Nauseda passed her and coming up on a stretch of ice before him, he applied his brakes. His sudden stop forced Mrs. Smith to strike him from the rear.

Nauseda's car was damaged at the left rear side and rear but was able to be driven away.

Mrs. Smith's car was entirely wrecked in the front and had to be towed away.

No citations were issued to either party and no injuries were sustained.

The report was forthcoming from Deputy Robert May of the sheriff's office.

The estimated number of registered voters is 5,443,298, a decrease of 56,171, Mr. Carpenter said.

Increases in the number of precincts were noted in 29 counties, while there were decreases in two counties. In Cook county, there was a decrease of 10 precincts in the city of Chicago and 26 in the suburban area under the jurisdiction of the Board of Election Commissioners, but there was an increase of 132 in the other suburban area for an overall increase of 96.

The event marks a new attempt to honor the overall athletes of the high school.

Sewer Bids Await Okay

President M. Cunningham recently reported that bids on the new Sewer and Water project have been (thoroughly) tabulated by Village Engineer Dave Miller and have been sent to the State Sanitary Water Board for their approval.

Cunningham stated that this approval was necessary before work could be begun on the project, explaining that the bids must be lower than the estimate of the Federal Grant given Antioch by the Federal Government.

Another ten days, Cunningham added, was required before the bids could be let. At that time, he expected to let all of the bids on each individual project, the water tower, the disposal plant and the sewer and water mains, at the same time.

Woman Hurt In Collision

A 38-year-old woman was injured in an accident here last Tuesday, March 13.

Shirley White, a resident of Antioch, was proceeding west on Rte. 173 at 10:30 a.m. east of Deep Lake Road when the accident occurred.

Coming over a hill, she noticed that a car was approaching with its left turn signals blinking and she slowed down.

Timothy Hammon, 26, of Rockford, did not wait for Miss White to pass him but turned in front of her. Miss White hit him head-on, causing damage to the complete left side of her car.

She was taken to the Antioch Clinic by the Antioch Rescue Squad for treatment.

Hammon was issued a citation for failure to yield the right of way. The report of the accident was forwarded by Deputy Robert May of the sheriff's office.

Addition is Bogged Down

Supt. A. L. Dittman recently reported that construction on the high school's new addition is at least six weeks behind schedule. The building's construction which is costing in the neighborhood of $900,000, has been bogged down due to the inclement weather.

Dittman explained that the contractors require an exceptionally good spring before the addition's building could be stepped up. With good spring weather followed by the smooth course of mild summer weather, the building can still be completed before the beginning of the next school year, it is felt.

The contractor has therefore been asked by Dittman to concentrate energies toward the completion of the first floor of the addition where the new cafeteria and science rooms are located.

This action was taken, Dittman explained, because even if the building is not complete by the beginning of the next school year, these particular rooms will be needed.

This summer, the present science rooms will be remodeled as part of the home economics spaces. Locker and physical education spaces for girls will be provided for by remodeling the old cafeteria space.

EDITORIAL

COOPERATION PERSONIFIED

The recent agreement of the Antioch Lions Club and the American Legion to hold the summer carnival through their joint efforts is a commendable and praiseworthy decision on their part.

Incorporation of the Lake Region Jaycees who will hold a pageant in the carnival is also another point in the organization's favor.

It is exactly this type of community spirit and cooperation which highlights the Village of Antioch as a helpful and congenial community. Along with being cooperative, the organizations still offer other groups in the locale participation in the gala summer event. This would be the opportunity of the year for all of Antioch's organizations. The Moose, the Eastern Star, The Knights of Columbus, the Antioch Woman's Club, the Rainbows and especially the Village Board with the complete endorsement of Mayor Cunningham, to proceed to consolidate their energies, ideas and talents into an anxiously awaited-for event.

At the height of the tourist season in Antioch, this displayed cooperation of the entire Village would be a resplendent image of a unified community with as much to offer to the outsider as any other. We strongly urge these organizations to consider doing so.

When you pause to consider the conditions existing within other organizations located in different areas around us, then the reader may well realize how important it is to retain a full scale cooperation among our social and civic groups. Cooperation is the key word here. When the word is utilized, the taint of snobishness, petty quarrels, private jealousies, overly competitive jibes is removed. In the place of these detrimental aspects, a measure of understanding is introduced to the citizens of the area.

We believe this attitude to be fundamental if progress is to be achieved for our way of life, not only in Antioch but throughout the entire country and the world.

This summer hundreds of tourists from large and small cities will visit Antioch. What they see here will be carried back to their own locales.

Provided with an excellent showing of civic cooperation, a tremendous impression can be made.

The American Legion and the Antioch Lions Club have already done much to put this plan into effect. We hope that our other organizations, equally important, will do the same.

The American Experience

By Ray Puchner

Scratch a classic author and chances are you'll find he's penned a masterpiece of eroticism somewhere along the line. Recall the more ribald moments of Chaucer, Shakespeare, Rabelais, Pevens, and the like and you'll know what I mean.

The good old Samuel Langhorne Clemens (better known as Mark Twain) turned out a pornographic book for the amusement of his friends (just as Robert Burns used to recite dirty poems for his). Between the time he finished "Tom Sawyer" and "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" (no relation to Mickey), Mark had been reading Sam Pevens' "Diary" which contains some very fine graphic pornographic material. This inspired him to write the famous "1801."

"1801" is an imaginary conversation as it might have taken place at the fireside of Queen Elizabeth I. Twain subtitled it: "A Conversation as it Was at the Social Fireside in the Time of the Tudors." Some conversation! It's got all the crude four-letter words and ceteras. John Hay, who later became Secretary of State, called the book "a classic—a most exquisite bit of old English morality." Hay had a copy of the manuscript which had been sent to him by one Alexander Gunn. He wrote back to Gunn: "I have your letter, and the proposition which you make to pull a few proofs of the masterpiece is highly attractive, and, of course, highly immoral." The book or manuscript was, naturally, "1801."

Anyway, Hay and his friend Gunn had a special edition of 100 copies run off at—of all places!—the United States Military Academy at West Point. In all, the work has been surreptitiously printed 44 times in the United States and seen many editions abroad. It's a collector's item—that is, if you are a collector of pornography.

Now I know you're all anxious to hear of what's in this famous dirty book. The story is related by Her Majesty's cupbearer and includes the following distinguished cast: Lord Bacon, Sir Walter Raleigh, Ben Jonson, Francis Beaumont, Shakespeare, and so on.

The humor of the book lies in the treatment of august persons as back room bawds. Queens, courtiers, and such, talk not of diplomatic affairs but of matters which are usually etched upon bathroom walls.

Of course it is impossible to speak of exactly what the book contains. It would be unprintable in this newspaper.

So why did I bring up all this hullabaloo in the first place? I suppose because it's a little known aspect of American letters and most people like to read that kind of stuff. Do you?

Jackie Kennedy's recent jaunts as a public figure into various foreign countries seems to strike a discordant note within me. The smiling contours of the President's wife can be found everywhere—in newspapers, magazines, television, etc. She has taken on the aspects and aura of a "ship of state." Heads of governments bow and scrape to her. Balls, parties, celebrations are showered down on her. Long lines of alien faces view her from brimming sidewalks. Shiny cars and shiny airplanes transport her through all portions of the globe, down all the golden roads of the world's capitals.

She has been described as an "unofficial representative of the United States government." The publicity given to this "unofficial representative" is gaudy and ostentatious. What these spree-like trips are accomplishing is not quite clear to me. At least, Jackie isn't talking. In fact, she never talks. The only statements ever issued from her lips deal with nondescript prattle over ultra-feminine nuances and problems.

This situation of having the second head of the household wear the pants at least once a week is somewhat indicative of the political-social and business climb exemplified by women today.

Of course one could always trace this stressed and overstressed importance of equality to the origin of the suffragette movement during the First World War when women such as Jane Grant chained themselves to street lights in New York, all in the name of "equality for women."

This so-called equality has somewhat superseded itself however in the last twenty years.

Women, to a great degree, have taken over key positions in business.

In the editorial world, for instance, the role of the female has been monopolized into a one-person show. A complex and highly specialized field, the editorial profession has succumbed to allow the female to dominate the scene with their makeup ideas, "inspiration" and various other tidbits of conglomerated musings. Jessica Daves, Editor-in-Chief of the Conde-Nast publications, is a prime example of this "look, we're-just-as-good-as-you-and-we're-going-to-prove-it" attitude. All of her magazines, purchased for her by her husband as a present, follow the same mawkish formulas of dull, uninteresting stories, articles and even advertising.

The book publishing outfits are plagued by female editors who decide the value of a manuscript according to the female readership it will attract. Submitting fiction manuscripts to publishers for over seven years, I have been rejected by only two male editors (and they were representing smaller houses). The rest of the rejection slips (numbering over three hundred) come from women with the usual statement—"It would not lend itself to our list nor interest our readers."

How do women lodge themselves into this field, as well as others just as specialized? Simple. Their jobs are procured for them by personnel agencies, managed, staffed and directed by women.

Thirty years ago, female editors, reporters, writers were not only scarce, they were unheard of. Then came the revolution. Margaret Mitchell wrote "Gone With the Wind." Pearl Buck wrote of China, Edna Ferber cranked out novels, Willa Cather did the same.

Amie Semple McPherson was a pinnacle of saintliness as an evangelist (until falling into a widely publicized scandal).

Peggy Hopkins Joyce was a little girl reporter for a leading New York paper.

Gertrude Ederle swam the English Channel. ("We can swim just as far as any man can.")

Amelia Earhart tried to top Lindbergh's solo flight performance and was enshrined publicly when she disappeared over the Pacific with her navigator.

Oveta Culp Hobby, Marguerite Stitt Church, Clair Booth Luce (using the impressive middle name to emphasize their importance no doubt) all entered politics and were hailed as girl wonders.

The reins of our country's future seems to be gradually turn-

Postponement of formal action on the Public Works Department proposal by the Lake County Board of Supervisors until after the board chairman voting in April will keep it alive a bit longer, but advocates of the plan are going to have to do some good public relations work between now and the formal vote.

Apparently many city and village officials, and they aren't all in the eastern part of the county, either, are afraid such a department would encroach on their own engineering departments and their own public works activities.

The bogeyman of double taxation is being raised by officials whose communities are served by the North Shore Sanitary District, but any sewer and water projects planned and developed by the county Public Works Department could be constructed under revenue bonds paid off by those using the facilities or through a special assessment program limited to the property involved.

Some communities, such as Mundelein, fear that a county public works department might plan an area sewage disposal system that would be tied in to the village system without proper compensation for the residents who have voted a bond issue to construct their own facilities.

All in all it would seem that Wauconda Supervisor Robert Dickson, chairman of a special board committee assigned to study the public works proposal, will have to marshal his facts and do a hard-sell job of convincing the cities and villages that the county isn't creating a monster.

The same problem lurks in the bushes for the new county building.

Many people refuse to believe that a $7.5 million building is necessary and are still disputing the present courthouse square as the proper site for a new county courthouse regardless of size or cost.

It is our guess that Supervisor

August Capon and his Public Building Commission will push ahead with the project regardless of opposition, firm in the belief that the building is essential and confident that when it is completed the people of Lake County will be proud and satisfied.

This is a tremendous responsibility for Capon since it appears to flaunt the will of a majority of the people, but there are times when the elected officials must proceed in the face of public opposition.

Political buffs and politicians are talking about...

The recent hassle between Congressional Candidate James Wetzel and Max Wildman at Ingleside which almost erupted into blows and revealed that Wildman has a surprisingly thin skin for a trial attorney and candidate.

The frontal assault by Lauren R. Januz, candidate for State Representative, on Rep. Bill Murphy, County Chairman Robert Milton, and Coroner Robert (Mickey) Babcox in Lake Forest last week during which he accused them of trying to disrupt the GOP in Lake County.

The surprise endorsement of Congressional Candidate Adeline J. Geo-Karis Lambros by Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian, who apparently is testing his strength among Republican voters for future reference.

The high level, philosophical radio talks by Congressional Robert E. Coulson who is appalled more for thought and study than for votes.

It's a little early to be talking football, but it was inevitable at the party given for Kenny Harlan, GOP candidate for State Representative, because among the guests were Wally Lemm, new coach of the St. Louis Cardinals and Coach of the Year in the American Football League last season.

Harlan, incidentally, after a late, late start is coming on strong and will be a definite factor in the 12 man race for the two assembly posts.

Editor's Note: I have already written an editorial protesting against this constant booming in our local area (February 22 issue of the Antioch News). The Air Force, with its complex system of offices and authorities does not seem to recognize complaints from the civilian population they are suppose to protect. I would suggest getting up a petition of protest signed by your neighbors and allowing us to publish it. The petition could then be sent on to Air Force headquarters in Milwaukee. Perhaps, in view of a large group of citizens protesting against these repetitious sound booms, the military might take steps to remedy the problem.

SUPER PATRIOTISM
"... Let no freedom lover be thrown off his stride by the talk about 'super-patriotism.' That kind of gibberish is calculated to create heat, not light. Its only purpose is to cause the Patriot to feel reluctant to let his patriotism show, and this is no time for any such reluctance on the part of those who know what is wrong and who want to help set things right. This is a time, above all times for active Patriots to be at work."—Hamilton Press.

WORKING WOMEN

Along The Way

with Annie Mae

Embarrassing moments seem to be a part of everyone's life, and make those laughable stories to tell at the next meeting of the bridge club.

Small children have a distinct talent for placing you in some of these positions. Such as the day your clayman drops in for a visit and your youngster, (knowing your talent for entertaining) marches into the living room, proudly bearing a can of beer for your guest!

Then there's the day you dash to the supermarket clad in curlers, babushka and sneakers. You are sure to get the squeaky cart, and all eyes turn your way. (Including the new neighbor from Boston). Or the time you made a pajama clad trip to take father to the train and ran out of gas half way home!

Even though they make you shrink at the time, these are the moments that make life a grand and exciting excursion into adventureland each and every day. There must have been a number of red faces around on Monday, when Antioch had a real red-tag day. These tags were attached to the windshields of various vehicles around town! I counted eight at one time, and one auto looked peculiarly like Bill Brooks!

Last week-end I became a first-nighter at an off-Broadway show called "Brigadoon," that had all the earmarks of a real hit! A very enjoyable production of the combined talents of Ken Smouse, Joseph Rush and Miss Della Tronchuk, with the compliments to all in the cast. And a salute to all the mothers who worked hard on the costumes and listened to a Scottish brogue for several weeks. Sure brought out the Scotch in me! So much that I couldn't bring m'self to pay 50c for a program!

Did you get a glimpse of the Plaid Stamp cutie at a local supermarket? Incidentally I hear the Post Office is running second in stamp business these days!

Well, it's the time of year when Tim O'Connell should be receiving that "Bit o' Erin" again. I understand he always gets a genuine shamrock from his homeland.

Your Governor Reports

One hundred years ago an act of Congress created the United States Department of Agriculture. It became a reality in May, 1862.

This centennial observance may have special significance for the people of Illinois. The anniversary year coincides with one of the momentous issues of the century—the trade expansion program—one in which Illinois agriculture and industry have great interest.

The position of Illinois in the 100th anniversary is obvious. The Illinois State Fair is held in the "Land of Lincoln" and provides an excellent means to emphasize the supremacy of United States agriculture. It is this thought that is prompting plans in some quarters for enlarging the Illinois State Fair into a national agricultural exposition.

Should this become a reality, it will demonstrate to the world the efficiency of American agriculture as a contrast to that in the U. S. S. R., which just last week Nikita Krushchev labeled a failure.

To accentuate agriculture at the fair beyond that which has been customary, should trigger

Used to be that people swore by V-8's and V-8's alone. And then along came Tempest's spunky 4 to steal their thunder. The hottest version* of this 4 (168 hp) puts out more horsepower than any other production 4 in the world. More torque, too. ## IDEAS

"One of the phony ideas getting wide circulation in the U.S.A. these days is that if you believe in the profit system you are not a humanitarian."

Humanitarianism is being defined as opposed to the profit system—which is pictured as greedy, selfish and evil.

But there are just two facts we ought to concentrate upon: 1. Every practical humanitarian project in the United States exists and thrives solely because of the profit system.

2. Every so-called non-profit enterprise in the United States operates on gifts and funds supplied by those who do make profits.

Golden Anniversary
Heartiest congratulations to the Girl Scouts on their Fifty-fifth Anniversary. Troops 126 and 173 have displays set up in windows of the Piggly Wiggly. On display are some of the handicraft they have made during the year. A few of the items are sewing baskets made from Christmas cards and plastic, door knob covers, coin purses, eye glass cases, flower vases, ash trays made from sea shells, litter baskets and flower vases. Troop 126 is headed by Mrs. Raymond Claffy. Her co-leader is Mrs. Henry Pearce. Troop 173 is comprised of Intermediate Girl Scouts and is headed by Mrs. Everett Standford and her co-leader is Mrs. Howard Klister. Their display is "Around the World." Green and yellow streamers coming down from a globe of the world, and cloth flags from all over the world that the girls in the troop made. Also on display are souvenirs collected from all over the world. Two pots of yellow daffodils are also on the table for their golden anniversary.

At a committee meeting held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Pearce, the topic of discussion was a winner roast to take place at Camp Morrison on April 23. The Camp is on Hastings Lake. A tentative date for their Mother and Daughter banquet is scheduled for May 22 at the Lindenhurst Civic Center. The ladies who attended the meeting were Mrs. Dorothy Thompson and Mrs. Evelyn Dusek, committee mothers, Mrs. Betty Wells, chairman of committee, Mrs. Bernice Zagan, co-leader and chairman of workshop. Mrs. Claffy, Brownie leader, and Mrs. Pearce, who is co-leader, and secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Standford's troop has just finished making bath salts and putting them in fancy containers. The salts are made from epsom salts, food coloring and perfume.

They, like all other troops, are busy making posters for their 50th anniversary, that will be on display at the Waukegan High School West Campus April 7. The theme of their poster is "Salt Water Life."

Lyle Mercer, president of the Lindenhurst Men's Club has given Troop 173 permission to plant yellow flowers in containers in front of the Civic Center on May 26.

Troop 80, also of Lindenhurst is headed by Mrs. Henry Page. Mrs. Robert Bucsas is co-leader. Mrs. Edward Bonovitz is secretary-treasurer. Their Brownie troop has a display set up in Avery's Plumbing in Lake Villa.

They made several snakes out of juice cans and covered them with felt, jewelry boxes, picture frames and fruit baskets from popstick sticks. Easter baskets from plastic bleach bottles, and pencil cases.

On Thursday afternoon, they will have a party to celebrate their birthday.

In homes with Flameless Electric Heat you almost have to hunt for dust

When you move into an electrically heated home you can practically forget about dirt. Electric heat is as clean as the electric light you read by.

There's no flame or fuel to make dirt, soot, or grime. And electric heat is such gentle heat it doesn't even stir up dust. In fact, in an electrically heated home you often have to look for dust.

EVERYTHING STAYS CLEAN LONGER

Your curtains and draperies stay fresh and nice for so long you'll have a time remembering when you put them up. Upholstery stays lots nicer, too. Electric heat is so clean you spend far less time housekeeping. That leaves you more time for activities you enjoy.

Living in an electrically heated home has other advantages, too, such as room-by-room heat control and fresher feeling heat that uses up none of the moisture or oxygen in the air. Even your skin feels more comfortable.

ELECTRIC HEATING NOW COSTS LESS THAN EVER

The recent rate reduction—on Electric Heating—applies to the three basic systems illustrated below. So, if you're looking for a new home . . . plan to build one . . . or want to modernize the heating in the home you own, call your nearest Public Service Company office for complete facts on the Electric Heating system that's best for you.

3 BASIC TYPES OF FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEATING TO SOLVE EVERY HEATING PROBLEM

Radiant Electric Heating—offers room-by-room control. Ideal in homes or apartments. Just set the dial and you control the heat. Heating units circulate and radiate gentle waves of warmth throughout each room.

Central Electric Heating—new kind of furnace for new or older homes. Works with your present duct system. Circulates gentle, electrically heated air. Air conditioning may be added at any time.

Electric Heat Pump—gives you perfect year-round climate automatically. Amazing unit switches to heating or air conditioning by itself. Maintains ideal temperature and humidity with one setting.

Sequoits Wrap-up Season At 1362 Points in Year

By Howard Shepard
The basketball season is almost over and with the State tournament swinging into action this weekend, it might be a good time to reflect on Antioch's record this past year.

Finishing with a 12 and 10 record in the county, the Sequoits tied for 8th place with Lake Forest in the County standings. Their showing in the Northwest Suburban conference was even better, finishing in a second place tie with Grayslake, at 10 wins and 4 losses.

Nobody considered the Antioch team as a threat at the start of the season, except maybe Coach Leon and the players. Their first game against Mundelein seemed to bear out the pre-season predictions with the Sequoits barely edging Mundelein's first year squad 42-41.

From that point on the Sequoits steadily improved with each game and surprised everyone by upsetting Warren twice, beating Lake Forest and winning over first place Round Lake in their first contest. Leon's charges were in nearly every game all the way, being soundly beaten only 3 times during the season.

In releasing statistics for the season Leon said that he was "very proud of the boys and pleased with the season's record." Individual honors were cited to Bob Kubicki who was voted the Most Valuable Player. Kubicki, in 22 games, compiled 303 points for a 13.8 average. High for the team, Kubicki made good on 126 out of 287 attempts from the field for a respectable 43.9 percentage. He also added 51 out of 63 free throw attempts for a .810 clip.

Bud Dittman received the Most Improved Player award. Dittman spent the early part of the season sitting on the bench and began spelling diminutive Guard Jim Brownlee in later games. Moving into a regular guard spot in the last few outings, Dittman boosted the team's cause by adding 89 points while hauling in 25 rebounds.

Honorary Captain honors went to Bob Krieger, senior center and one of the squad's leading rebounders. Bob gathered in 140 rebounds while dumping in 181 points to rank second in the scoring, tied with Joe Pleviak.

Jim Brownlee, 5'2" junior guard, took the Most Spirited Player award and any Sequoit fan who watched him play would have to agree the honor was deserved. Brownlee scored only 92 points for the season but led the team in assists with 77. His leadership on the floor was one of the factors in the Sequoits' success this year.

Although no honors were lauded then, two juniors who made their presence felt throughout the season were Doug Lang and John Hallwas. Accounting for 327 points between them Lang led the squad in rebounds with 155 while Hallwas gathered in 117. I'm quite sure Coach Leon will be glad to have these two fellows around next year.

The Sequoit team scored a total of 1362 points this season to their opponents' 1360. This figure will give some idea of the closeness of some of the games. At one point in the season it was figured out that the Antioch squad had lost 5 games on a spread of 9 points.

The point average per game for the Sequoits and their opponents also is practically identical: 61.9% for Antioch, 61.8 for the opponents.

The season is over and already speculations are being made in the barber shops on next year's team. Who will the probable starters be, what freshmen will develop into varsity players, will the sophomores come along and give that added punch? These are just some of the questions being raised.

As to next year, we can continue to speculate but in the end we'll just have to wait and see. As to this past season, we say, "Well done."

GOING UP FOR THE LAST BALL go Antioch Sequoits and Barrington Broncos in their play off game at the Regional Tournament held recently in Libertyville. The Sequoits lost out to Barrington 38-35, ending their tournament hopes.

The Great American Pastime Gets Ready for the Public

By Jay Nash
The baseball season hurtles forward. At this moment hundreds of players are being signed to professional and semi-professional teams. Hurlers are tossing the ball hot and heavy in the Florida sun. Up and coming Mantles are digging into Texas dirt for that mighty swing. Somewhere in a not-too-foreign corner of the attic, a baseball glove has been dusted.

High school students in Antioch and all over the country are figuring out ways to make the team this year. Like a fresh south breeze, the Great American pastime creeps up with anxious spring.

Every year that this heady sport rolls into view, the fans look back into baseball history. The perennial arguments ensue. Who was a better pitcher? Who was a faster runner? Who was the best clutch hitter? Who hit the sure homers?

Those entering the paid life of a baseball player today consider their occupation a dignified profession of skill, talent and ingenuity. Those viewing from the spectator's position look on baseball as a respected and admirable way of life.

Such was not always the case. In the early days of Honus Wagner, Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb, a baseball player was considered a roustabout, a free-lancer, a grifter, and in most cases was commonly called a bum.

No one would hire a baseball player to work because he would invariably drift back to the "summer job" on the sandlots. His credit was never good. But his rate of pay was never any good either.

Teams were composed in the

Bob Kraft is New Lake County Bowling Champ

The new Lake County singles bowling champion is Bob Kraft of Antioch. An eight game series of 1,606, which was bowled at the North Chicago Bowlarium last Saturday night, clinched the crown for Kraft.

The 19th annual pin classic, opening several weeks ago, saw Kraft top fifteen other finalists in the showdown matches. The contest listed over 254 top-notch bowlers from this area at its off-set.

Kraft was the only finalist bowling who managed to retain a 200 average for all of his eight games.

Julius Stanczak, of North Chicago, was runnerup to Kraft with a score of 1,565.

Waukegan's Bud Erickson placed third with a series of 1,573.

Kraft, who qualified for the series with a 1,629 series, averaged 201 plus for his total of 16 games in the 1962 tournament.

Still stood unbeaten, though several 700 series were posted.

Tournament officials reported a total entry of slightly over 1600, as compared to last year's 2200 entries. Bad weather, particularly on week ends, was thought to be to blame for the drop in entries.

Final standings in the tournament are:

- Bill Hoffman 757
- Don Slama 754
- Ernie Koche 730
- Bill Driscoll 735
- Al Kaplan 735
- Frank Huspen 731
- Ray Perrine 727
- Dick Armstrong 726
- John Nicola 723
- Bud Schabily 721
- John Douglas 715
- Bob Kraft 714
- Carl Carlson 704
- Bill Carney 701
- Marty Padgon 700

With the tournament ended, upon bowling will be resumed as usual at the Antioch Bowl.

Hoffman's Record of 757 Stands After Tourney

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell

After a slow Saturday, the Men's Singles Tournament at the Antioch Bowl roared into high gear on the last day of the contest Sunday, with local and out-of-town bowlers trying to beat the high total of 757 set by Dutch Hoffman. At the end of the tournament Hoffman's 757 before or after. . . . Paul Galico said in A Farewell to Sport. "He was baseball. And for decades to come little boys will shout to other little boys playing on sandlots throughout the country, 'Who do you think you are? Babe Ruth?'"

The game was and still is an outstanding opportunity for the youth of this country to grow to great stature.

George Horman Ruth came from a broken family. He spent most of his youth in Baltimore's St. Mary's Industrial School for orphans. In 24 years of hard and bitter playing, he helped to give the youth of America a pastime he never had. And now his name is legend.

When those arguments in which modern-day players are compared to that of yesterday break out, one should always remember that it is not fundamentally the records that count. They are only part of it.

What can not be compared or topped is the color, the style, the gesture, the way of life exemplified by the old pros of the past.

Perhaps someone could change my mind about that. But first he would have to show me a man who could drive a honker over 400 feet after calling the shot with his index finger.

Juniors & Bantams to Begin New Tournament

With the tournament ended, Junior and Bantam Leagues will resume their regular league bowling on Saturday, March 17. On March 24, both leagues will start bowling in the Mallo-graphic tournament.

This tournament is a yearly national event. Girls and boys teams are made up by the young bowlers themselves. The Bantam division takes in bowlers from eight to twelve years old, the Junior Division includes 13 to 15 year olds, and the senior division is composed of 16 to 18 year olds. It is a handicap event. The State winner is honored at a banquet in their home town, with league officials and parents of team members as guests.

Bob Kraft continued his recent scoring spree when he downed 15 of Lake County's best bowlers Saturday night to become Lake County champion.

The roll-off was held at the Bowlarium in Waukegan. Fifteen finalists and last year's champion competed. Kraft's winning score was 1606 for eight lines.

Bob rolled a 714 series in the Antioch Major League on Feb.

STATUS SYMBOLS

"Status symbols are nothing new. They are merely more readily acknowledged and more frequently talked about by a socially conscious generation. Symbols of wealth and prestige have changed through the centuries, but whether they take the form of spices, jewels, automobiles or the latest in household gadgets, the one factor common to most status enhancements is high monetary value.

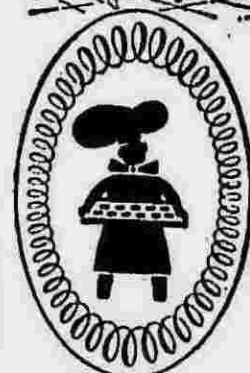

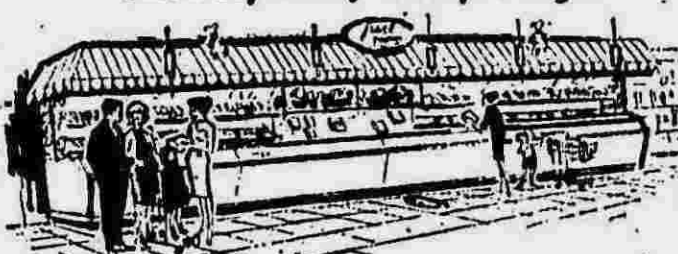

"A growing exception to this rule is the award. There is something about a plaque, a trophy or a scroll attesting to one's superiority in a particular field of endeavor which is pleasing to the human ego.

"So important has the trophy become in symbolizing accomplishments today, the average American will work harder for a $5 loving cup suitably engraved than he will for a $50 bonus. Sounds incredible? This was the estimate given by one of the nation's larger trophy dealers, who also revealed there are now 1500 standard figurines available for mounting on presentation trophies. . . . Mattoon Daily Journal Gazette.

"The family is the very foundation stone upon which free societies such as ours are built. . . . That most Americans so believe is shown by their generous support of those institutions that help keep the family strong.

"One such institution, which has been a part of our lives for 81 years, is the American Red Cross." — Huntington, Ind., News.

KNOW YOUR MAN

"It is the obligation of every person who registers a vote to delve into the background of each candidate voted for. With out knowing what a man represents and what his qualifications are for the job he is seeking through the voter's endorsement, the voter himself becomes a party to any future infractions or neglect of the law originated by the candidate.

"The best way to protect not only our voting rights but every right practiced and enjoyed is to make absolutely sure of how these rights are used and especially of who is guarding them for the citizens of this country."

Antioch News.

Foresters at the University of Illinois report that trees can make a good income crop for those "lost acres" on land that is too rough, too steep, too irregular or too small for the usual farm crop.

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.

why?

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another?

There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product

2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps prolong truck life.

See your Chevrolet dealer for a quality '62 Chevrolet Johnmaster truck.

"Automotive Market Reports" is a weekly authoritative wholesale publication which reports the average prices paid for used trucks and cars by professional buyers at auctions all over the U.S.

See your Chevrolet dealer for trucks that keep working and working and working and working!

Inside Antioch High

By Mike Brooks

"It isn't fair... They are out to get us!" was the sobbing cry heard from several students last Thursday night. The reason for the moans—there was to be no school Friday because of the Lake County Teachers Spring (?) Institute in Waukegan.

Thursday evening around 4:30 particles of water vapor, frozen in the upper air, fell to earth as soft, white, crystalline flakes. This is more commonly known as snow. Ugh! No matter how much it snows, I just can't get used to it. There are some people who believe this stuff is beautiful. There is something definitely wrong with them! Spring can't be too far off in the distance. Someone said he saw two robins this morning on his way to school. All Right! Friday and Saturday nights, the Fine Arts Department presented "Brigadoon" to a large crowd. The auditorium had more people in it, for a school function, than had been seen for a good spell. Congratulations go to the fine cast who did a superb job! After the production, the majority of the cast adjourned to Linda Osterlund's house for a party. I can't resist asking J. B. C. what he thought he could get away with—H. W. and W. M.—both at once?

The Senior Class is going to present "Sabrina Fair" in April. Tryouts have been held and practice has begun. We hope that Antioch will turn out in great numbers for our production, as they did for "Brigadoon."

A note to B. S.: March 31st is not too far away. Spring should be in full swing by then. Maybe the roads will be in better condition.

After several sunless days, part of J. G. Percival's "Apostrophe to the Sun" comes to my mind:

"Thou lookest on the earth, and then it smiles;

Thy light is hid—and all things mourn..."

American Cancer Society Claims Decrease in Disease

Twenty-five years ago, there was no atom bomb, no television, no immunity from polio, no man in outer space.

No comparable Atomic or Space Age or immunity from polio has developed in the field of cancer research.

However, in human terms, progress in cancer control has been dramatic and remarkable. In 1962, there will be over 1,100,000 persons alive who have been cured of cancer. Twenty-five years ago there were only 180,000.

The cure rate for cancer has climbed from one out of seven 25 years ago to better than one out of three today. This year, 42,000 men, women and children will be saved from cancer who would have been lost had they developed the disease 10 years ago.

To dramatize these gains during the past 25 years and give impetus to the future, 1962 has been designated as Cancer Progress Year by the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute. "This progress is compelling reason for all to observe Cancer Progress Year with a health check-up," A. D. Kaufman, Crusade Chairman for the Lake County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, explained today.

What are the reasons for this progress?

Mr. Kaufman said there are two: First, over the years there has been a growing trend toward early diagnosis, when cancer is most curable. The public is becoming more and more aware that early diagnosis and prompt treatment are their best protection against death from cancer. Consequently more and more men and women have an annual health checkup.

"There is a growing realization among the public," Mr. Kaufman said, "that the possibility of preventing deaths from cancer today is greater than for any other chronic disease if the cancer is diagnosed early and promptly treated."

Over the last 25 years the American Cancer Society has placed special emphasis on early detection and prompt treatment. This is the goal of its educational program. The results have convinced the American Cancer Society that "more can be done against cancer through education than any other disease." If more people could be persuaded to have annual health checkups and go to their doctors at the first sign of a danger signal, one out of two cancer patients could be saved instead of one out of three as is the case today.

The second contributing factor to progress, according to Mr. Kaufman, is cancer research—a program in which the Society and the NCI have invested millions of dollars. New techniques of detection and diagnosis have been developed and treatment by surgery, radiation and chemicals has been vastly improved.

All of this adds impetus to the years ahead. The American Cancer Society is not ready to speculate when the final victory over cancer will come, but it is optimistic enough to say "we are on the road to victory."

The goals it outlines for Cancer Progress Year are: "to report to the public where science now stands in cancer research, to intensify the efforts being made to persuade the public to act for its own protection, to improve the care of the cancer patient, and to step up all programs to speed the final victory over cancer."

Given increasing support by the public, the American Cancer Society is convinced that victory over cancer will come just as it has to so many other diseases.

The Society starts its Cancer Crusade on April 1 and has set an unlimited national quota, $1,900,000 quota for Illinois, $47,079 for Lake County, and a local quota of $400 for Antioch.

The Lake County Chapter has invited the editors of the county newspapers and the manager of Radio Station WKRS to be its guests at breakfast at the Waukegan Inn on Wednesday, March 14, in appreciation of the

MATURITY

"No one attains a true maturity, unless it is a spiritual one. For them does decay and death become life and hope, and a growing 'younger within'—Southwest Messenger Publications, Chicago.

"On the same day that the President, in his State of the Union message, spoke glowingly of our prospects for putting a man on the moon, a new B-52H 8-jet Super-bomber of the Strategic Air Command completed a record-breaking flight of 12,519 miles from Okinawa to Madrid without refueling. Giving extra point to this demonstration is the fact that this huge plane provides a launching platform for the Skybolt—a new supersonic ballistic missile—and gives it an extra 1,000 miles of range. We doubt that a landing on the moon would impress the Kremlin quite as much." Jaeger, W. Va., Industrial News.

support the chapter receives from the press and radio. Local publicity chairmen will also be present.
